Dear Colleagues

As agreed I attach a document that gives an idea of the range of complexity and price for gas mixing installations.

<http://project-cms-rpc-endcap.web.cern.ch/rpc/Services/Gas/GasMixingInstitutes/GasMixingRPC9Feb2015V4.pdf>

Although a little old now the options remain the same, the prices will have increased.

There are two major concerns whatever option you go for ;

- 1 the cost of the gas namely R134a
- 2 Safety . The mixture must always be out side the flammable limits. You do NOT want an incident, see page 16.

Look forward to talking with you on the options

best

Ian

Hello everyone.
Our group CMS Albania applied for a grant from Albanian government for the project of building a Gas an RPC detector lab. Our project is selected along with a handful projects as winner, and actually we are waiting just for the official decision in order to proceed.
Right now we need your help with what RPC group can provide us.
After speaking with Mehar, he suggested to have a meeting the next week.
Maxime and Ian can you please suggest when we can have this meeting, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.
Kind regards
Enkelejd
